Welcome Message

On behalf of the Saudi Critical Care Society (SCCS), I take great pleasure to welcome you to the 1st International Saudi Critical Care Conference and Annual Scientific Meeting (SCCS 2010-Jeddah) to be held at Jeddah Hilton Hotel on April 27th – 29th, 2010 with the pre-conference courses scheduled to be held on April 25th and 26th, 2010.

The event is being held under the patronage of HRH Crown Prince Sultan Ibn Abdul Aziz Al Saud, Deputy Premier, Minister of Defence and Aviation and Inspector General.

This will be largest multi-professional critical care event of the year in the region, and will be the foundation for further annual events attracting physicians, nurses, respiratory therapist, pharmacists, physiotherapist, occupational therapist, and other health care providers from all over the world.

Our valuable educational 5 days program includes:

- Advanced Courses
- Revolutionary education sessions
- Convincing plenary sessions
- Attractive pros and cons debates
- Compelling meet the professor (expert) sessions
- Sponsored symposia and hands-on workshops

After the successful participation of SCCS in the International Canadian Critical Care Conference called Critical Care Canada Forum 2009 that was held in Toronto on October 26th – 28th, we were able to bring the world leaders and known figures in Critical Care Medicine and related medical fields to participate in our 1st International Saudi Critical Care Conference and Annual Scientific Meeting.

The main theme of the conference is “How Should We Practice Critical Care Medicine in the Year 2010 ?”

The session format of SCCS 2010-Jeddah is plenary sessions, oral presentations, pros and cons debates, meet the professor (the expert), and round table discussion, in addition to poster presentations of abstracts.

The conference is accredited by the Saudi Council for Health Specialties for 30 CME hours. You can claim another 20 CME hours if you attend one of the pre-conference courses and the daily sponsored workshops. Attending these 5 days educational activities will entitle you to claim about 50 CME hours.

We have tried our best to bring you people with the latest experience and knowledge not only in Critical Care Medicine but also in many other related fields like Emergency Medicine, Trauma, Burns, Infectious Diseases, Gastroenterology, Hepatology, Cardiology, Nephrology, Neurosciences, Pharmacy, Nursing, Respiratory Care, Nutrition, Physiotherapy, Occupational Therapy, Radiology, Quality Control, and Information Technology.

In conjunction with the conference, an exhibition is held with exhibitors from countries around the globe, participants are given an opportunity to experience the latest medical technologies available. This is in addition to many sponsored symposia and hands-on workshops.

Jeddah in late April is one of the most attractive travel destinations. The agreeable weather, the charming scenery, the colorful cultural activities, and the nearby holy places for all Muslims will provide an excellent background for this intellectual event.

You will find your stay in Jeddah both pleasant and educational. Please enjoy it.

With best regards,
